(UN) Common Leadership Skills

Gary L. Teal

05/09/25

Thank each of you for what you do and what you will do in efforts to battle cancer.

(My recent experience)

Today's talk based on 45 and (especially) 22.

Common

- Often done
- Normal
- Customary
- Regular
- Familiar
- Expected
- Every day
- Repeated
- Established

Why “UN Common?”

Skill versus Will

Goal for Today:

You take away at least one thing you can apply to your leadership journey.

Leader: Something you want to be, or
something you want to do?

“Good to Great”

Both the book and actual experiences I have had.

Now to those skills.

Develop keen self-awareness.

Build Trust – up, down,
and across the organization.

Delegate Effectively.

Be aware of establishing precedence.

Listen.

Listen.

Listen.

Manage your Time.

What every EVPHA has asked me over the past
30 years.

“Until we can manage our time, we can manage nothing else.”

Peter F. Drucker

The Effective Executive

Thoughts on Time

- No one has more than anyone else.
- You can't store it for future use.
- Yesterday's time is gone forever.
- Time is inelastic – the demand does not drive the supply.
- It has no substitute.
- We do not naturally manage our time well.

Make consistently good decisions.

Almost Right vs. Probably Wrong

Wisconsin's Warning for Higher Ed

“The state has a decades-long pattern of evading difficult decisions, only to make hasty concessions at the 11th hour without a long-term plan to guide.”

The Chronicle of Higher Education
January 9, 2024

Execute Plans and Goals Effectively

According to John Kotter – real change starts with creating the sense of urgency.

The enemy of urgency is

Complacency

The single biggest “complaint” from WLA Fellows.

A soft finish on leadership skills.

Crayons

The reality for leaders is often ...

Crayons

Motivate

Persuade

Encourage

Influence

Provide Hope

Instill Confidence

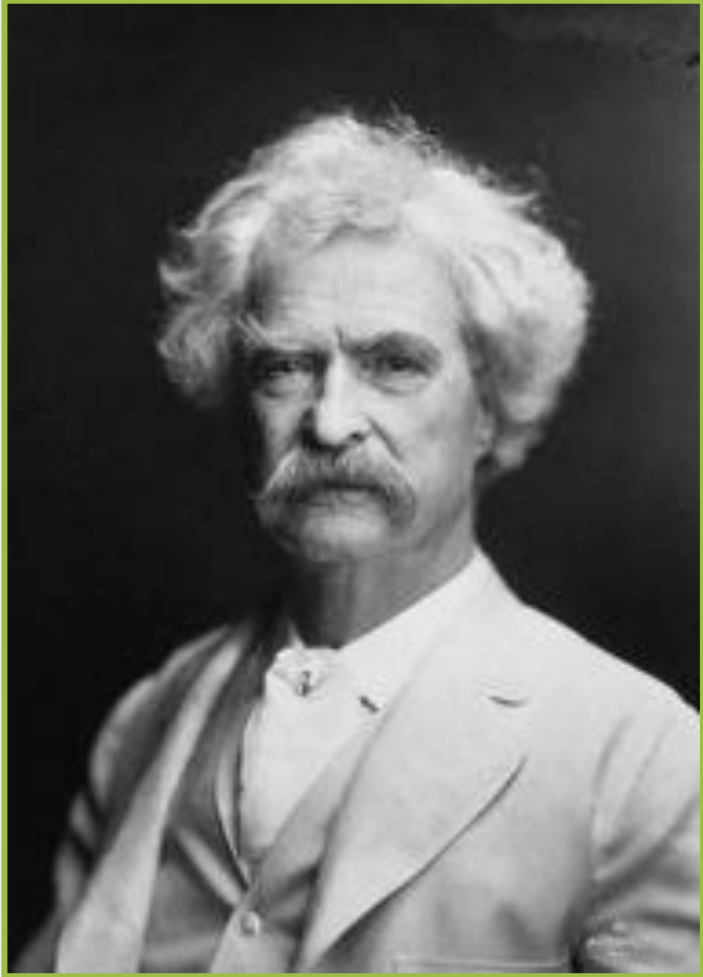

Energize

INSPIRE

Uplift

Stimulate

Excite

“I can live for two months on a good compliment.”

Mark Twain

And finally.....
